

Dear Native Plant Enthusiasts,

Pacifica Gardens Native Plant Nursery has a Native Plant Sale this Saturday April 20 from 10 - 2 in conjunction with sales of veggie and herb starts at Pacifica Gardens.

We'll have plants that show vegetation and blooms in the spring, and die back the rest of the year. For example, Soaproot, for which Native Americans had numerous uses, Ithuriel's Spear, a bulb which grows only 2 or 3 narrow leaves but has beautiful blue flowers, and Checkerbloom, a pink flower blooming now in the wild.

We will also have Douglas Iris with white to blue blooms (4 to a pot), and Clarkia (4 to a pot) which have lovely pink flowers, along with a selection of our usual natives.

Hope to see you at the sale!

Best, John
