Art Guild of Pacifica's "Winter Art Faire"

The Art Guild of Pacifica presents "Winter Art Faire," its annual holiday art show and sale, at Sanchez Art Center, beginning with a festive opening night reception on Friday, Dec 7, 6–9 pm. The "Winter Art Faire" continues on Saturday, Dec 8 and Sunday, Dec 9, 11 am –5 pm.

A showcase for local artists and artisans, "Winter Art Faire" is the perfect place to find unique items for the special people in your life, in a relaxed and welcoming atmosphere. Don't forget to treat yourself as well! All three galleries will be filled with artwork, including small gift items such as cards and ornaments. In addition to the fine art, we'll also have local artisan vendors selling jewelry, woven towels, flowers, skincare, jam, coffee, ceramics, and more.

Additional activities on Saturday, Dec 8, and Sunday, Dec 9, include the opportunity for visitors of all ages to create art, making washi tape peace doves between 1–3 pm. Locally crafted beer will be available during happy hour from 3 –5 pm.

At the "Winter Art Faire," the Art Guild of Pacifica creates the perfect place to spend an afternoon looking at art and talking with the artists, including those Sanchez studio artists who open their studios during this time. You will find some real treasures here, so make "Winter Art Faire" a gift buying stop, and enjoy artful holidays!
