

Tangerine Arts is happy to announce that our exhibition Out of the Blue, will be on view through November 9 at Eccleston, Inc., 205 Rockaway Beach Ave, Pacifica, CA. For viewing hours, please visit our website: <https://www.TangerineArts.net/exhibitions>.

Tangerine Arts is a women's art group that was founded in 1999 and meets regularly for camaraderie and to share their art. Currently the group includes five Pacificans and one member from San Bruno. In the 22 years of its existence, Tangerine Arts has mounted 23 shows in the Bay Area, from Pacifica and San Francisco to San Mateo, Belmont, Redwood City, and Palo Alto.

Out of the Blue presents work by artists Jennifer Alpaugh, Melinda Lightfoot, Kathy Miller, Nancy Mona Russell, Charlotte Seekamp, and Sharron L. Walker. The title evokes the suddenness with which our world can change, and the hopeful feeling of beginning to emerge from sad times. Viewers will see colorful mosaics, paintings, pastels, photography, and more. Jennifer Alpaugh captures botanicals and the natural world in both oils and delicate cyanotypes. Melinda Lightfoot exhibits colorful paintings in both acrylic and soft pastels. Kathy Miller shares her gifts by way of mosaics made with colored glass—some realistic and some more abstract. Nancy Russell shares her vision and interest in abstract works, in brightly colored acrylic and oil stick paintings. Charlotte Seekamp has a well-honed talent for combining acrylic paint with mixed media, and creating wonderfully open spaces where your eyes may rest. Sharron Walker's nature photography is a local legend, and here she also displays her talent with a brush in some lovely watercolors.

Out of the Blue is dedicated to longtime Tangerine Arts members Gale Frances and Linda Salter.
