

We have a new gig to announce. We will begin a Sunday jazz series starting this next Sunday, November 19 from 7-10 p.m.

We hope you need some nourishing, organic music to support your soul health. We play high-quality jazz in a variety of styles with top pro musicians. While this is not a jam session, we will have guest artists from time to time.

After a long layoff due to the Covid years, we are happy to get back in the groove with the quartet.

The sooner you can come the better, as turnout will help the gig continue. We hope to see you there.

Bright Moments,

Jim Grantham
